Pretrial, Trial, and Appellate Practice

Quantum Meruit Recovery Available When There Is No Signed Agreement.

This release includes a discussion of Hill v. Shamoun & Norman, LLP, 544 S.W.3d 724, 735 (Tex. 2018), in which the Texas Supreme Court held that Tex. Gov’t Code § 82.065(a) does not preclude a law firm’s quantum meruit suit to recover the reasonable value of legal services performed under an unenforceable agreement. See Ch. 3,

This release updates Texas Litigation Guide with recent Texas Supreme Court

Professional Responsibility, § 3.04[2][c], Ch. 21, Damages in Contract, § 21.03[1].

Meaning of “Must” in Statute. In AC Interests, L.P. v. Tex. Comm’n on Env’tl. Quality, 543 S.W.3d 703, 714 (Tex. 2018), the Texas Supreme Court held that a statute requiring that service “must” be made within 30 days was directory rather than mandatory when the statute did not include a consequence for failure to meet the deadline. See Ch. 4, Statutory Construction, § 4.03[3][a].

Pleading Requirements for Petition for Pre-Suit Deposition. Included in this release is Houston Indep. Sch. Dist. v. Durrell, 547 S.W.3d 299, 307 (Tex. App.—Houston [14th Dist.] 2018, no pet. h.), in which the court of appeals held that the fact that the deponent may be immune in an eventual lawsuit does not deprive the trial court of jurisdiction over a Rule 202 pre-suit deposition petition. In addition, the court held that a plaintiff who does not yet know who all the defendants will be is not required to plead that he or she exhausted any relevant administrative remedies. See Ch. 10, Depositions Before Suit, § 10.03[2].

Establishing Standing. The Texas Supreme Court in Meyers v. JDC/Firethorne, Ltd., 548 S.W.3d 477, 2018 Tex. LEXIS 522, *13 (Tex. 2018) explained that for a plaintiff to establish standing, the plaintiff must allege a personal injury fairly that is traceable to the defendant’s unlawful conduct that can be remedied by the requested relief. See Ch. 12, Pleading the Parties, § 12.01.

Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 38.001 Applies to Individuals and Corporations. In First Cash, Ltd. v. JQ-Parkdale, LLC, 538 S.W.3d 189, 200 (Tex. App.—Corpus Christi 2018, no pet. h.), the court held that the plain language of Tex. Civ. Prac. &

Rem. Code § 38.001 bars recovery of attorney’s fees against a limited liability company. See Ch. 22, Attorney’s Fees, § 22.20[1][b].

Purposeful Availment for Personal Jurisdiction. This release includes Old Republic Nat’l Title Ins. Co. v. Bell, 2018 Tex. LEXIS 513, *14 (Tex. 2018), in which the Texas Supreme Court held that minimum contacts analysis looks at the defendant’s contacts with the forum state itself, not the defendant’s contacts with persons who reside there. See Ch. 32, Personal Jurisdiction and Service on Nonresidents, § 32.04[1][a].

Mistake of Fact or Law Insufficient to Set Aside Arbitration Award. In Jefferson Cty. v. Jefferson Cty. Constables Ass’n, 546 S.W.3d 661, 674 (Tex. 2018), the Texas Supreme Court held that common-law grounds for vacating an arbitration award are exceedingly narrow and do not include an arbitrator’s mere error in applying the law. See Ch. 44, Arbitration, § 44.06[1][b].

Sanctions. In Altesse Healthcare Sols., Inc. v. Wilson, 540 S.W.3d 570, 572, 574–576 (Tex. 2018), the Texas Supreme Court held that rules against death penalty sanctions developed in the discovery context apply equally to sanctions in other contexts, including sanctions imposed for violations of a restraining order. See Ch. 50, Injunction, § 50.08.

Judicial Estoppel. In Perryman v. Spartan Tex. Six Capital Partners, Ltd., 546 S.W.3d 110, 117 (Tex. 2018), the Texas Supreme Court discussed the contours of the equitable doctrine of judicial estoppel. See Ch. 70, Answer, 70.05[3][f], Ch. 110, Pretrial Conferences, § 110.04[3].

Statutes of Limitation. In Schlumberger Tech. Corp. v. Pasko, 544 S.W.3d 830, 834 (Tex. 2018), the Texas Supreme Court discussed the rule tolling statutes of limitation in cases involving latent onset occupational diseases, finding that the rule did not apply in a case in which the injury was apparent at the time it occurred even though the full extent of the injury was not known till later. See Ch. 72, Limitations of Actions, § 72.03[3][c].

Privileges. In In re Andrew Silver, 540 S.W.3d 530, 532 (Tex. 2018), The Texas Supreme Court held that, while there is no separate “patent agent” privilege, the definition of the attorney-client privilege under Evidence Rule 503 is broad enough to protect a client’s communications with a non-lawyer registered patent agent made to facilitate the agent’s provision of authorized legal services to the client. See Ch. 90, Discovery: Scope and Limitations, § 90.06[2][c].

Summary Judgment. In Lujan v. Navistar, Inc., ___ S.W.3d ___, 2018 Tex. LEXIS 347, at *1–*2 (Apr. 27, 2018), the Texas Supreme Court approved the “sham affidavit” rule, under which a court may disregard an affidavit if it conflicts with the affiant’s prior sworn testimony and no sufficient explanation for the conflict is given. See Ch. 101, Summary Judgment, § 101.06[1][b].

Appellate Rules. The Texas Supreme Court, pursuant to legislation [see Tex. Gov. C. § 22.004(i)], has amended Rule 24.2 of the Texas Rules of Appellate Procedure effective May 1, 2018. The amendment, designed to reverse the rule of In re State Bd. for Educator Certification, 452 S.W.3d 802, 808–809 (Tex. 2014), provides that when a judgment debtor is the state or its department, the trial court must allow the judgment debtor to supersede the judgment, notwithstanding the court’s authority under Rule 24.2 in other cases to decline to permit the judgment to be superseded if the judgment creditor posts security. See Ch. 148, Suspending Enforcement of the Judgment, §§ 148.03, 148.04[4][d].

Judgment Notwithstanding the Verdict. In Dudley Constr., Inc. v. ACT Pipe & Supply, Inc., 545 S.W.3d 532, 538 (Tex. 2018), the Texas Supreme Court discussed the use of cross-points under Civil Rule 324(c) and Appellate Rule 38.2(b) to bring forth grounds to avoid rendition of judgment on the verdict after an appellate court reverses a judgment notwithstanding the verdict; the Court concluded that rigid technical compliance with these rules is not required, so that a party need not label its arguments as “cross-points” to comply with the procedure. See Ch. 150, Appellate Proceedings in Court of Appeals, § 150.03[3][b].

One Satisfaction Rule. Sky View at Las Palmas, LLC v. Mendez, 2018 Tex. LEXIS 515 (2018), which held that: (1) in applying the “one satisfaction” rule, whether the plaintiff suffered a single, indivisible injury, and whether a nonsettling defendant is entitled to a settlement credit for payments on account of that injury are reviewed de novo; and (2) it is not necessary to show that the settling defendants were jointly liable in tort, because contractual liability is sufficient. See Ch. 102, Settlement, §§ 102.05[1][b], 291.03[4][d].

Business and Commerce

Allocation of Profit and Loss—Limited Liability Company. In Sohani v. Sunesara, the court of appeals determined the defendant did not present enough evidence to show he was entitled to one third of the profits of the LLC. His testimony was limited to oral statements that he contributed cash and “deferred profits” to startups and acquisition, but he provided no documentary evidence. See Ch. 183, Limited Liability Company, § 183.04[3][f].

Trademark Infringement-Protectability. In Viacom v. IJR Capital Invs., the Fifth Circuit, in addressing protectability of an unregistered mark, essentially split the “protectible right” question into two smaller questions: 1) whether there is demonstrated use of the mark as a source identifier; and 2) whether there is distinctiveness. Use indicating origin, not registration, is key to establishing this kind of ownership, since the purpose of trademark law is to prevent competitors from copying a source-identifying mark [Viacom Int’l, Inc. v. IJR Capital Invs., L.L.C., 891 F.3d 178, 185–187 (5th Cir. [Tex.] 2018)]. See Ch. 200, Trademarks, § 200.30.

Unemployment Benefits Eligibility and FMLA. An individual qualifies as “unemployed” under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act [Tex. Lab. Code § 201.001 et. seq.] while taking unpaid leave from a job under the FMLA. According to the Texas Supreme Court, an individual who does not perform services for wages during a benefit period is “unemployed” and is not disqualified from receiving benefits solely because the individual is on FMLA leave [Tex. Workforce Comm’n v. Wichita Cty., 548 S.W.3d 489 (Tex. 2018)]. See Ch. 203, Employer-Employee Relations, § 203.55[6].

FLSA Overtime Exemptions. Service advisors—employees at car dealerships who consult with customers about their servicing needs and sell them servicing solutions—are exempt from 29 U.S.C. § 213(b)(10)(A), the FLSA overtime pay requirement for “any salesman, partsman, or mechanic primarily engaged in selling or servicing automobiles” at a covered dealership [Encino Motorcars, LLC v. Navarro, 138 S. Ct. 1134, 1138, 200 L. Ed. 2d 433 (2018)]. See Ch. 203, Employer-Employee Relations, § 203.22[1][d][iv].

TCHRA—Scope of Inquiry in Jurisdictional Challenges. The Texas Supreme Court recently held that it disapproved of cases limiting the jurisdictional inquiry to the prima-facie-case element of a TCHRA circumstantial-evidence case, resolving a jurisprudential inconsistency regarding which elements of a circumstantial-evidence TCHRA case constitute the jurisdictional facts; thus, all elements of a circumstantial-evidence TCHRA claim are jurisdictional facts [Alamo Heights Indep. Sch. Dist. v. Clark, 544 S.W.3d 755, 783–784 (Tex. 2018)]. See Ch. 203A, Employment Litigation, § 203A.52[1][b].

Family Law

Nonparent Standing. Resolving a split of authority among the courts of appeals, the Texas Supreme Court has held that a nonparent has the actual control of the child necessary to establish standing under Family Code Section 102.003(a)(9) if, for the requisite six-month time period, the nonparent served in a parent-like role by (1) sharing a principal residence with the child, (2) providing for the child’s daily physical and psychological needs, and (3) exercising guidance, governance, and direction similar to that typically exercised on a day-to-day basis by parents with their children. The statute does not require the nonparent to have ultimate legal authority to control the child, nor does it require the parents to have wholly ceded or relinquished their own parental rights and responsibilities [In Interest of H.S., 2018 Tex. LEXIS 558 (June 15, 2018)]. See Ch. 370, SAPCR Procedures, § 370.02[1][d].

Child Support. The Texas Supreme Court has held that neither physical custody nor legal guardianship is required for a parent to have standing to file a suit seeking child support for an adult disabled child under Family Code Section 154.303(a)(1). The mother of an adult disabled daughter had standing to seek child support from the child's father even though she did not have physical custody of the daughter and was not her legal guardian [In Interest of C.J.N.-S., 540 S.W.3d 589, 590–593 (Tex. 2018)]. See Ch. 371A, Child Support, § 371A.02[2][b].

Personal Injury Litigation

Defamation. Dall. Morning News, Inc. v. Tatum, 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 1090 (Tex. 2018) held that: (1) whether a statement is capable of a defamatory meaning is a question of law for the court; (2) a jury question is presented only when the court determines that a statement is capable of both a defamatory meaning and some other meaning; and (3) if the statement's context reveals that it is merely an opinion, the court need not determine whether it is verifiable as false. See Ch. 333, Libel and Slander, §§ 333.02[1], 333.21[2].

Commercial-Speech Exemption of TCPA. Castleman v. Internet Money Ltd., 546 S.W.3d 684 (Tex. 2018) (per curiam) applied the commercial-speech exemption of the TCPA and held that it applies when: (1) the defendant was primarily engaged in the business of selling or leasing goods; (2) the defendant made the statement or engaged in the conduct in its capacity as a seller or lessor of those goods or services; (3) the statement or conduct arose out of a commercial transaction involving the kind of goods or services the defendant provides; and (4) the intended audience of the statement or conduct were actual or potential customers of the defendant for the kind of goods or services the defendant provides. See Ch. 333, Libel and Slander, § 333.42[1][c].

Medical Malpractice. Benge v. Williams, 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 1159 (Tex. 2018) held that: (1) any negligence claim based on a surgeon's failure to disclose is necessarily an informed consent claim, so a purported disclaimer of that theory does not permit submission of a single broad form negligence question; and (2) whether an expert witness is qualified is an issue for the court, so a doctor's testimony that he was not "practicing medicine" was not disqualifying when he meant only that he was not currently seeing patients. See Ch. 321, Medical Malpractice, §§ 321.05[1], 321.17[4].

Claims Against Government. Fort Worth Transp. Auth. v. Rodriguez, 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 959 (Tex. 2018) applied the Transportation Code provisions extending the Tort Claims Act to contractors of regional transportation authorities, and held that: (1) the statute simply applies the liability rules to the contractor, and does not grant or extend the authority's immunity; but (2) all liability rules are available, including the election of remedies provision, so an employee of the contractor is protected from suit to the same extent as an employee of the authority. See Ch. 293, Claims Against Governmental Entities, §§ 293.10[3][b], 293.13[4].

Fraud. Anderson v. Durant, 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 1583 (Tex. 2018), which held that: (1) the existence of an enforceable contract is an essential element of a fraudulent inducement claim; but (2) provided that the jury instructions and answers are sufficient as to that element, it is not necessary for the claimant to secure a separate jury finding on the issue in order to collect damages based on the benefit of the bargain theory. See Ch. 336, Fraud, §§ 336.04[5], 336.07[2].

Insurance Litigation

Limitations. In re Dawson, 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 1606 (Tex. 2018) (per curiam) held that: (1) when a defendant did not comply with its disclosure obligations before the limitations period expired, designation of a responsible third party was barred by statute, so the trial court abused its discretion in granting leave to designate; and (2) mandamus is available to correct this clear abuse of discretion. See Ch. 291, Proportionate Responsibility; Contribution and Indemnity § 291.03[2][b].

Proportionate Responsibility Inapplicable under Medicare Fraud Prevention Act. In re Xerox Corp., 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 1548 (Tex. 2018) held that when the state sues for monetary relief under the Texas Medicaid Fraud Prevention Act [see Tex. Hum. Res. Code § 36.001 et seq.], the proportionate responsibility statutes do not apply for two related reasons: (1) the state’s claim is for monetary penalties, not damages; and (2) the Act contains its own mitigation and fault-allocation scheme. See Ch. 291, Proportionate Responsibility; Contribution and Indemnity § 291.03[1].

Workers’ Compensation. Wausau Underwriters Ins. Co. v. Wedel, 2018 Tex. LEXIS 519 (Tex. 2018) held that when a workers’ compensation carrier waives subrogation, that waiver not only bars direct recovery against the third party, but also precludes reimbursement from the injured employee of amounts paid or due from any judgment or settlement obtained in a third-party action. See Ch. 340, Workers’ Compensation, § 340.41.

Uninsured Motorist. Elwess v. Tex. Farm Bureau Mut. Ins. Co., 538 S.W.3d 776 (Tex. App.—Eastland 2017, no pet.) held that when a claimant has been fully compensated for all loss caused by an uninsured motorist, an “other insurance” clause in the claimant’s own UIM coverage is enforceable and bars further coverage. See Ch. 342, Uninsured Motorist Coverage, § 342.01[6], [7].

Real Estate Litigation

Condemnation. Morale v. State, 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 1601 (2018) (per curiam) held that when the state initially determined that condemnation of a portion of a tract would require displacement of a business operating on that tract, but later revoked that determination, the initial determination, the revocation, and the reasons for them are all relevant to valuation of damages to the remainder. See Ch. 261, Condemnation, §§ 261.32[3], 261.35[1], [3].

Deed Language. Perryman v. Spartan Tex. Six Capital Partners, Ltd., 546 S.W.3d 110 (Tex. 2018) held that when a deed purported to grant title subject to a one-half royalty interest, but there was no mention of a previously excepted one-half royalty interest, the grantor’s deed did not convey the entire interest because the language of the second deed was an exception to the grant, not a reservation by the grantor. See Ch. 254, Deeds and Conveyances, § 254.05[3].

Oil and Gas

Leases. Tro-X, L.P. v. Anadarko Petroleum Corp., 61 Tex. Sup. Ct. J. 1167 (Tex. 2018) held that: (1) for a contingent, “top” lease to take effect on the termination of a primary, “bottom” lease, both must be in existence at the same time, so the distinction is inapplicable when a prior lease is terminated and replaced by a new one between the same parties; and (2) it is not necessary for the new lease to state or otherwise express an intent to terminate; instead, the new lease automatically has that effect unless it objectively demonstrates both parties’ intent otherwise. See Ch. 283, Oil and Gas Leases, §§ 283.02[1], 283.03[15].
